

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, DEC. 6, 1882.

ROSSER & McCARTHY,
PUBLISHERS AND PROPRIETORS.

LIKE Master Twist, of whom you know,
The people asked for more,
And so, this afternoon they get
The funny "Pinafore."
And then, again, to-night they'll have,
The measure well to fill,
The most enchanting music of
"The Bells of Corneville."

Don't Forget the Lecture.

Dr. Cottrell arrived last evening and will be in trim for his lecture at the M. E. Church, south, this evening. Wherever he has lectured the people have been delighted. He cuts for himself a clear new path in the line of thought. He is a thoroughly independent thinker. In the sentiment of ex-Senator McCreary "the listener will regret when he ceases to speak." Tickets at J. James Wood's drug store. Lecture at 8 o'clock.

A LARGE and appreciative audience was present at the opera house last night to witness the presentation of the popular opera Olivette by the Holman troupe. It was rendered in excellent style and was warmly applauded throughout. Miss Sallie Holman made a bright and sparkling Olivette and sang like an angel. She was repeatedly encored. Miss Blanche Holman, Mr. Wallace McCreary, Mr. A. D. Holman and Mr. J. H. O'Connor in their respective parts made decided hits. The choruses were harmonious and rendered in a spirited manner. The opinion heretofore expressed that it is the best musical organization that has ever visited Maysville is sustained by the entertainment last night. At the matinee this afternoon will be presented "Pinafore" and in the evening "The Bells of Corneville."

N. B.—We want a wholesale customer in Chester and the Fifth Ward to accommodate the wants of the people at these places. H. T. & Co.

We have been asked to say to the patrons of Mr. Hermann Lange, the jeweler, that it will be to their interest to call early to make their purchases for the holidays as during the last few days before Christmas there is generally such a rush at his establishment that he is unable to properly wait upon his customers.

Determined to Check the Mighty Tide.

For ten years or more there has been a great rush of people to Cincinnati and other points for buggies and carriage work in general, carrying with them thousands of dollars which legitimately belong to the city of Maysville. In order to prevent this state of affairs and being somewhat encouraged by the sale of one hundred and forty this year, we have ordered (and have now under course of construction) one hundred vehicles from the best manufacturers of the day, to be delivered in time for our grand spring opening, of which, date and dinner will be announced in due time. As the above line of business is to be a future specialty with us we shall endeavor to obviate all the objectionable features encountered heretofore, thus throwing upon this market a class of work that shall not be excelled in quality or price by any house in the west.

Look out for extraordinary bargains during the next thirty days in Farm Wagons and Buggies, for they must be sold before the first of January. All are invited to call, see, buy and get a bargain.

MYALL & RILEY.

Nos. 7 Second and 18 Sutton, streets, Maysville, Ky.

Robert Toombs, of Georgia, is thrifty and is one of the richest men in the south. Alexander H. Stephens used to say at school Toombs was looked upon as a big, dull, awkward boy who would never amount to much. "But," Mr. Stephens would add, "when Friday came and the school week was over, we always found that Rob Toombs had all the marbles, knives, &c., which had belonged to the rest of the schoolboys."

For and About Women.

The shock of finding out that her lover was a horse thief, instead of the rich gentleman that he had represented himself to be, destroyed the reason of a girl at Dallas, Texas. A week later her father followed her to the asylum crazed by sympathy and grief.

It is said that a lady school teacher in Huburn, Me., during the summer vacation, raked 100 tons of hay, harnessed the horse for the meadow, and felt all the better for the field exercise.

A Wisconsin woman, who twenty years ago captured another girl's lover and married him, and is now a rich and childless widow, has spent time and money without stint in hunting up her unfortunate old rival, and will give her $100,000. Apparently the man in the case made a good husband.

The most learned woman in the world is said to be Miss Rammabel, a young lady of twenty, who is now in Paris. She is a native of India, and can read and write, talk in twelve languages, besides being up in mathematics, astronomy and history. She is studying medicine and will go to India to practice, where she says that thousands of her country-women die every year because they will not consult male physicians.

Some important facts about Chinese women are given by Rev. W. S. Swanson, missionary of the English Presbyterians at Amoy, China. He thinks that in that country women are a greater power than in any Eastern land. He speaks of their sturdy, strong, pithy character, such as makes them the real backbone of China. They are terribly oppressed, yet not tamely submissive, but rather resisting and reforming. Many of them have entered into a league, says Mr. Swanson, against the practice of foot-binding, pledging themselves not to practice it, and further, to marry their sons only to women whose feet were never bound. No more difficult reform could have been undertaken.

People in this country who have wondered at the denunciations of the "Salvation Army" in England, will cease to do so on learning that one of the latest songs which these alleged Christian crusaders sing on streets run as follows:

"He's a jolly good Saviour,
He's a jolly good Saviour,
He's a jolly good Saviour,
Which nobody can deny."

MARRIED.

December 5th 1882. MISS MARY E. CHAMBERLAIN to MR. WM. F. BRITAIN, all of Mason county, Ky.

DIED.

December 1, 1882, of diphtheria, EZEKIEL DURRETT, little son of Mr. R. C. and Nannie Durrett. He was born November 16, 1874.

Smooth his tangled golden ringlets,
Fold his white hands upon his breast,
Gently kiss his icy forehead,
Little EZEKIEL is at rest.

He has left this world of sorrow,
He is free from pain and care,
Darling, EZEKIEL is with angels
In a world so bright and fair.

How we long to hear the accents
Of his merry childish voice
That once thrilled us with its music,
Making every heart rejoice.

How we miss thy gentle footstep,
That once tripped across the floor,
How our hearts aches to remember,
That we see him here no more.

When the autumn flowers were blooming
In the shady forest glade,
Where the free breeze blows the softest,
There our little one we laid.

Darling little angel EZEKIEL,
Gentle spirit, pure and sweet,
Ah! how glad will be the moment,
When in heaven our friend we meet.

Absent friend still remember— M. F. B.
Washington, Ky., December, 1882.
